Little whiskey now and then It srelished by the wisest men, It smoothes the wrinkles out of care, And makes ace-high look like two pair. When everything looks so blasted blue, And misery sticks like Spaulding's glue, Just take a nip, it will cover any flaw, And make at once the Tucker bill a law.

When it has wandered down your necks, It fits your eyes with magic specks, Which bring the bright side full in view And makes one quarter look like two.

It makes an ugly woman look divine, Our burial lot becomes a mine, The trees all walk, the fences run, Our funny talk just takes the bun.

Whenever you want a nip that's nice As can be bought at any price, Drop in and see me and you'll not forget

That the best is kept at the Sideboad Saloon.

Commissioner Sparks has written a letter to the Attorney of the Southern Pacific Railroad in reply to a request that a patent be issued for lands on list, "No. 4," selected by the company as contemplated by the Secretary's letter of September 30, 1886. The Commissioner refused to direct a certification of the lands for the reason that measures looking to a forfeiture of the grant tification of the lands for the reason that measures looking to a forfeiture of the grant were pending in Congress. The Commissioner says the bill referred to was favorably reported by a very large majority of the House Committee on Public Lands, but was not reached for consideration by Congress. There has therefore been no opportunity for the resiling expression of the tunity for the positive expression of the legislative will. For this reason he declined to take steps looking to the insurance of a patent, and thereby defeat the full and free patent, and thereby defeat the full and free exercise by the Fiftieth Congress of its will.

Harrison Not Happy. Chicago, March 26.—Mayor Carter H.
Harrison has again declined the Democratic nomination for mayor of Chicago, and this time declares that his decision is final. He sent out a notice to the Democratic City Central Committee for a special meeting this afternoon, when he read a prepared letter outlining his porpose and the reasons which actuated him to this course. He openly declares that he has been opposed openly declares that he has been opposed by the representative of the Administration at Washington, and has also been charged at Washington, and has also been charged with treachery to political friends, and for these reasons he can not be a candidate. The letter states that at the convention he was carried away by the enthusiasm of the moment, and decided to accept. After taking the endless abuse he has been subjected to by the press for years, which he bore with comparative equanimity, because his personal honor was never attacked, he says that being accused now of betraying friends the situation becomes unbearable, and life too short in which to undertake to set himself right. After declaring that knowing well the consequences of the action, which will be to forever bar him from future political honors, he must irrevocably withlitical honors, he must irrevocably with-draw his name from the head of the ticket, the Mayor says: "The confidential adviser in Chicago of the President of the United States has taken the public position that I should be defeated in the interest of the National Administration. The three news papers which are the organs of the Presi-dent in Chicago, have attacked me violently since my nomination, and urged my defeat. This convinces me that the President of the United States does not desire me to be elected. I therefore respectfully suggest that you call into consultation with you the gentlemen who are known to be advisers here of the Federal Administration, and nominate a ticket which will command their nominate a ticket which will command their support."

The charge of treachery made in the letter has reference to De Witt C. Cregier, former City Superintendent of Public Works, and who was urged for the nomination upon the theory that Harrison would not accept another nomination. What course the Democraile party will now pursue, is not stated. Some of the party men declare that Harrison cannot resign now, and will run him to make the race, while others intimate that a new man will be named.

all saved and would be taken to New 1972 to-morrow.

The fortunate subsidence of the wind enabled the 1,200 passengers to be saved from what was a very perilous position. The steamer had passed through a succession of storms, and when the Captain ordered the masts cut away and the vessel run aground, the passengers felt the shock and gare themselves up for lost. But the life saving crew worked promptly and all were saved. The company's agent thinks the boat can be got off all right and the cargo saved. cargo saved.

More War.

Benlin, March 26.—The North German Gazette reproduced an article from La. France, of Paris, of Emperor William's birthday, containing an insulting reflection upon the German people and the Emperor and adds:
